My three kids have all attended the school with my youngest currently in year 3. They have benefitted so much from the nurturing environment provided by the school over my now 10 years of being a parent here. We have spoken in the family as to what we can do to support the school more and the time seemed right this year to step up and put my head above the parapet. What I have seen so far just makes me appreciate even more the incredible work that the staff do. Away from the school, I run a small financial advisory business and am a trustee for the Friends of Astley Hall (another wonderful local institution). I love supporting my wife and kids with their various hobbies and endeavours and if time allows am rarely happier than when walking in the hills.

Originally from Accrington, I have lived in Adlington since 1984. I am retired after 27 years as a secondary and college principal leading organisations in this country and abroad, and responsible for children from pre school through to sixth form. Our grandson is at Anderton and it was instantly apparent to me, that Anderton is a good school rapidly becoming even better, and, secondly, that I really miss being involved in education. I am honoured to have been co-opted onto the governing body and look forward to supporting the school and its wonderful children in whatever ways my skills allow. I love travel, reading, the arts, and all types of sport, though my commitment over 60 years to Burnley FC might cause others to doubt that!
